CEO's COMMENTARY

Spring has finally arrived in Toronto. The weather is beginning to warm up, the Maple Leafs and Raptors are both heading to the playoffs, and it's a good time to reflect on how lucky we are to live and do business in this great city.

Toronto really is booming. The metropolitan area was home to more than 6.3 million people in 2017, according to Statistics Canada, up nearly 5% in just three years. New immigrants and people from across the country are flooding into the city in search of jobs and opportunity. They are helping to make our city a more dynamic, vibrant place.

According to the Financial Accountability Office of Ontario, the Greater Toronto region added 69,700 jobs in 2017, significantly more than the rest of the Province put together. This was not a one-year blip. The GTA has added jobs every year this decade, and accounts for approximately 20% of the entire country's GDP.

All around the city, you come across exciting new restaurant openings, parks, and property developments. Whole neighbourhoods are getting revitalized on a regular basis, or developed from scratch. Toronto is a wonderful place to live, and it really is getting better all the time. Now if the Leafs could just win a Stanley Cup...
